Zusammenfassung / Résumé

With the input of the PSO and upon video review, player Elias Bianchi from HCAP, made contact with an opponent deemed Checking to the head or neck-IIHF Rule 124.

From the PSO perspective, it is clear that Elias Bianchi's action requires supplementary discipline.

As the video shows, Bern #55 Calle Anderson shoots the puck along the board. Andersson is eligible to be hit. Ambri #20 Elias Bianchi gets into a sportive position to deliver a hit. Bianchi launched into the hit making the head the main point of contact.

The PSO recommendation is more than one game suspension for Elias Bianchi.

Key Points

1. This is checking to the head
2. Head is the main point of contact
3. Bianchi's skates leaves the ice before impact
4. Bianchi extended his body upwards (elevation into the hit)
5. Bianchi was able to minimise impact of avoid contact
